About the Author About the Author Roselyn Teukolsky, M.S. (Ithaca, New York) taught programming and computer science for more than 20 years. She has published articles in The Mathematics Teacher and in the National Council of Teachers of Mathematics Yearbook, and she has received several awards and honors, including the Edyth May Sliffe Award for Distinguished Mathematics Teaching and the Alfred Kalfus Distinguished Coach Award from the New York State Math League. About the Publisher In the 1930s, Manuel H. Barron opened a bookstore in Brooklyn, New York. People from the community asked Mr. Barron about books that might be available to help their children study for the New York State Regents exams. After realizing there wasn't anything available, Mr. Barron created his own study guides. 80 years later, Barron's has helped millions of people prepare for their next step. --This text refers to an alternate kindle_edition edition.

What people say about this book

Izzy, “Breaks Down the Most Pertinent Info. I like this author, he's very upfront in his descriptions and doesn't sugarcoat anything. He can be very blunt in how difficult this process is to become an FSO which he should be since it's an extremely strenuous and lengthy process. I highly recommend this book for anyone looking to become an FSO even if you're slightly interested. It will help you make the big decision on whether or not you really want to go down this path.”

Andrew, “... harder than the actual test but It does a good job of preparing you. The practice tests were harder than the actual test but It does a good job of preparing you. I am giving it a 4 star because the format of the test has changed a bit since this was made. However, this is a great guide to prepare you for not only what to expect during the initial test but also in the other tests and during employment.”
